- VINCENTIUS Bellovacensis, or de Burgundia. [Speculum naturale. Lib. 33. Argenterati, J. Mentellin, 1473.] 2v. f°. [Sine ullâ notâ]. B.150.1

Note.—T. I is printed in double columns, 66 lines in a full page, on 368 leaves, and terminates on col. 2d verso, line 13. Of the 368 leaves the first 21 contain the prologue and the table of contents of the chapters. The book begins thus: Incipit speculū naturale Vincentij beluacensis fratris ordinis predicatorum. The first page after the contents begins i. De diversis mundi acceptiōibus. Ex libro qui dicitur imago mundi. The vol. ends thus: quo pacto simul omnes eo quo venerant agmine redeunt. T. II contains 325 leaves, of which the first 8 contain the table of contents of the chapters (19-33) included in this vol. The first line of the vol. after the contents la .j. De opere sexte diei. Et primo de anima libus. Guillerinus de concinis. The vol. ends, 1st col. verso of last leaf, thus: perstrita sunt, ac latiore in fine speculū hystorialis. patescunt. Amen. The letters are what are called by Brunet, "lignes tirant sur le gothique."

- [Speculum doctrinale. Argenterati.] f°. [Sine ullâ notâ, cum littera R] *B.150.3

Note.—This vol. is in 2 cols. and 67 lines, and has the same form of letters as the preceding but with the singular letter R, which marks the edition. The vol. has 404 leaves, including two blank, of which the first 15 contain the prologue, the general table of the 18 chapters of the work, and on the 16th leaf, by itself, the special contents of the 2d book. The vol. begins, first line, thus: Speculū doctrinale Vincentij beluacensis iris ordinis predicator. Incipit, and ends leaf 404 recto, 2d col., & altus in quo & agnus ambulet et elephas nateat.

- [Speculum morale. Lib. 32. Argenterati, J. Mentellin, 1476.] f°. [Sine ullâ notâ] *B.150.2

Note.—This vol. has the same general form of letters as the preceding, 62 lines to a full page, and double columns, without date or name. The complete work contains according to the Kloss catalogue three books of which this copy contains only the first two. This copy lacks the second volume containing book third. The first three leaves contain the table of contents. The work begins thus: Incipit primus liber Speculū moratus in omnibus operi. The first book ends on fol. 208, col. 2 recto, Liber primus finit feliciter. The second book ends on fol. 290, col. 1 verso, licet non eodem ordine persequatur. Vincentij speculū moralis Liber secundus in quo de quatuor minimis dissertatur. finit feliciter. This copy has running titles above each page, and has not the peculiar letter R.

- [Speculum historiale. Argentorati.] Mentellin, 1473. 2v. in 1. f° *B.150.5
- Note.*—This contains the 3d and 4th vols. only, bound in one, of the original edition (not the 1st edition) by Mentellin, in each vol. of which the printer's name is given and in the last the date of 1473. It is in 2 cols. 62 lines. The 3d vol. has 201 leaves, and ends 2d col. recto, in capitals thus: Explicit. tercium. volumen. speculi. historialis. Vincencii impressum. per Iohannem Mentellin. The 4th vol. has 213 leaves and ends 2d col. verso, in capitals thus: Explicit. speculum. historiale. fratris. Vincencii. ordinis. predicatorum. impressum. per Iohannem. Mentellin anno Domini millesimoquingentesimoseptuagesimo tercio. quarta. die. Decembris.
- Same. [Lib. 31. Augustæ Vindelicorum?], 1474. 3v. in 2. f° *B.150.6
- Note.*—This is a complete copy (except one leaf in the beginning of vol. II and a leaf or two at the beginning of vol. III) of an edition which in one volume has the date of 1474. It was formerly supposed to have been printed by John Faust, but Mr. Duvé in a memoir upon the subject, shows conclusively, that it was not printed by Faust or Schaeffer, but probably at Augsbourg. Vol. I begins thus. Incipit Prologus Fratris Vincentij de Burgundia Ordinis predicatorum in libro qui dicitur Speculum Hystoriale. It ends, on fol. 341 verso, 2d col., thus: Explicit registrum capituloru decem libror. prime partis speculi hystopealis fratris vincentij. Vol. II or part II begins: Incipit speculi hystorialis Vincencij pars secunda. Liber vindeximus. It ends, fol. 322 recto, secunda pars speculi hystorialis fratris vincentij. Et vicesimus primus liber in ordine totius voluminis finit reverter. The table of contents in 9 leaves in one case is placed at the end and in the other first in the book. Vol. III begins with Liber 22, but chapter 1-VII and all but 11 lines of chapter VIII are wanting in this copy. It ends thus: videre non valeant: Explicit tricesim. primus liber. Then follow ten lines beginning, Codicis et ending patria. Then follows the date thus: M.cccc.lxxiij. The work is printed in double columns, 52 lines, without folios, signatures or catchwords.
- Same. [Augustæ Vindelicorum?], 1474. 2v. f° *B.150.4
- Note.*—These are the 1st and 2d vols. of another copy of the same edition as the preceding.
- Note.*—The foregoing form a set of the original edition of the Speculum quadruplex, complete with the exception of the third book (forming usually the 2d vol. of the Morale, and of the first and second vols of the Hystorale, together with a set of the Historiale of the edition of 1474 complete except one leaf at the beginning of vol. II and a leaf or two at the beginning of vol. III, and a duplicate of vols. I and II of this edition, very complete and perfect. Among the whole may be made out a complete copy of the Speculum quadruplex, excepting the 3d part of the Morale, and a leaf or two at the beginning of vol. III of the Historiale.
